

Small Ruminant Newsletter and blog lists

Wild & Woolly is a quarterly newsletter for sheep and goat producers, 4-Hers, extension agents, and other interested persons. Mailed copies are available for a cost recovery fee of $10/year (4 issues), made payable to the University of Maryland. E-mail subscribers receive an e-mail message when a new issue of the newsletter has been posted to the web at www.sheepandgoat.com/news/index.html. The newsletter may be viewed online in HTML format or downloaded in its original graphics format as a PDF file. Shepherd's Notebook (<http://mdsheepgoat.blogspot.com>) is a blog for the same audience. There is also a blog for the Western Maryland Pasture-Based Meat Goat Performance Test (<http://mdgoatatest.blogspot.com>). Blogs are online "newsletters." E-mail subscribers to the blog(s) receive blog entries via e-mail.

Please add my e-mail address to the following e-mail reflector lists:
